

Norview Community Center bids to be opened next month

Bids will be opened next month for construction of the new Norview Community Center. About 20 people attended a preconstruction conference that was held on Tuesday, October 24. The Department of Public Works Division of Design and Construction anticipates a competitive bidding process. Currently, there are 21 plan holders for the project.

The approximately 26,900 square foot community center will feature multi-purpose rooms, gymnasium, dance studio, fitness area, classrooms, kitchen, library, art room, offices, game room, and computer labs. Construction is scheduled to begin later this year.
