

This is where Norfolk Crime Line Works Best!

Right in your own neighborhood, making your streets safer, and protecting your loved ones and your property.

Crime affects everyone, but there's something we can do about it. Catch the criminals, convict them, lock them away.

Many of the hotline tips Norfolk Crime Line (NCL) receives through our toll-free 1-888-LOCK-U-UP number result in taking a criminal off our streets who has often committed other crimes as well. And, who can say how many future crimes might have been averted once that criminal is put away.

It's simple how Norfolk Crime Line works. When someone calls in with a tip about a crime that has been committed, the caller is assigned a number that only the caller and NCL know. When the tip leads to an arrest, the caller can earn up to a $1,000 reward, depending on the nature of the crime. Throughout the process, the anonymity of the caller is protected, and the caller does not have to appear at trial.

Since 1981, over 7,118 cases have been solved through the NCL hotline including, 281 homicides, 93 rapes, 796 robberies, 807 burglaries and 669 narcotics-related busts.

Thanks to the cooperation and support of the Norfolk Police Department, Chamber of Commerce, news media, businesses, civic leagues, schools and individuals, NCL continues as a citywide non-profit community-funded program that unites the public, the media, and law enforcement agencies in the fight against crime. Norfolk Crime Line is solely reliant on the financial support of private individuals, civic groups and corporate donors.

Although we are a nonprofit organization, we receive no Federal, state or local funds. You are our source for crime-fighting funds.

NCL's board of directors includes private citizens who care about their community, offering their time and work without drawing any remuneration.

Norfolk Crime Line has the full support of the Norfolk Police Department, and Chief Bruce Marquis, who states:

“What a tremendous asset the Norfolk Crime Line is to both the Police Department and the citizens of our city.

Few if any citizen initiated crime-fighting programs have met the unprecedented success as that of the Norfolk Crime Line. The Norfolk Crime Line is a vital tool in our efforts to make Norfolk and Hampton Roads a safer place to live, work, and play. A tool that I support and encourage every Norfolk citizen to support as well.”

Here's how you can help us fight crime year-round.

1. Support us financially.

We get no Federal, state or local government funds. We are dependent upon the donations of individuals, businesses, organizations and civic groups.

2. Make a note of our 1-888-LOCK-U-UP number and make your friends and neighbors aware of it also.

3. Invite us to make a presentation at one of your neighborhood or civic group meetings.
