TIDEWATER GARDENS CONSTRUCTION UPDATE

The next phase of the Tidewater Gardens redevelopment is underway with construction on new, multi-family housing set to begin in the fall near the Downtown Transit Center.

This phase began on June 28 with the demolition of four buildings on the northside of Charlotte Street. 16 buildings in total between Fenchurch Street, Charlotte Street, Chapel Street and Mariner Street are scheduled for demolition in October and construction on housing will begin soon after.

Construction will also begin on new roads, stormwater and utility infrastructure in the fall.

If you have questions about the redevelopment or the different phases, please contact People First at 757-390-4365.
Tide sensors created by Storm[1]Sensor Inc. in partnership with RISE Resilience Innovations have been installed in Tidewater Gardens. This new technology is helping the city track water levels and flow in our underground pipe system caused by rain storms and high tides in the river. The data being collected is informing the redevelopment to ensure all of the new infrastructure and housing is protected from flooding. This includes the ongoing planning of a 26-acre Blue-Greenway park that will be built along Tidewater Drive. To learn more about the Blue-Greenway park and how these sensors track water flow in our area, visit stpaulsdistrict.org.

RESIDENT SPOTLIGHT

Naya Artis had no savings account prior to enrolling in Bank On Hampton Roads’ 5 month financial literacy program. Taking her sessions after work and meeting with her coach on evenings and weekends, Naya was the only Tidewater Gardens resident to complete the program. Now, she has enough to help pay for furnishing her new home.

If you’re interested in improving your financial literacy and decision making, Bank On is starting classes back up for the fall! Register today by calling 757-943-9652 or visiting bankonhr.org.

Be on the lookout for details on our upcoming in person session which will take place near the Tidewater Gardens community.
Thanks to the residents who came out to help Norfolk Arts and artist Danetta Evans complete “The Gathering Place” mural on Walke Street during the week of Juneteenth. We hope all enjoy and take pride in the new artwork in Tidewater Gardens! To see other murals Norfolk Arts has done or find out more about them, visit norfolkarts.net.
PEOPLE FIRST

MARY WEBB
Thank you to everyone who came out to the Summer Blast hosted by People First and helped us honor Mary Webb and Jerline Norman, two women who have been a part of the Tidewater Gardens community for 51 years. A special thanks goes to our community partners who provided on-site job interviews, health screenings and other resources to our residents. We hope to see you all at the next community event!
