

Benefits of Being Rent Ready

By being Rent Ready, you will become a more informed landlord or property manager, have access to free and quality services, have access to free and quality resources and have access to exclusive benefits of being Rent Ready.

Become a More Informed Landlord or Property Manager

- You will have a better understanding of your roles and responsibilities as a landlord or property manager and you will learn what your renter's roles and responsibilities are as well.
- You will be able to make better decisions when it comes to creating a lease that meets the standards of the Commonwealth of Virginia's Code of Virginia, renting out your unit(s) or home, selecting and qualifying a renter for your property, and maintenance of your property.
- You will have a blueprint to make your property management and renting experience easier for you and your renter(s) because Rent Ready Norfolk will lay out a road map to make your experience successful.

Have Access to Free and Quality Services

- Quality Assessment: Before your renter moves into your property, you can request a quality assessment of your unit's interior, exterior, and common areas to ensure your unit is "Rent Ready."
- Workshops: Understanding property management and the renting process is now easier with regularly available courses on topics on, such as but not limited to, Virginia Residential Landlord and Tenant Act (VRLTA), Rights and Responsibilities as a Landlord, Fair Housing, Property Management: A Reliable Landlord, and Property Maintenance: Keeping Up the Quality. Workshops are offered to first-time and current landlords or property managers—it is never too early or too late to understand the property management and renting process.
- Property Listing: Marketing your properties has now gotten easier with our online property search engine that allows potential renters to view your units that are certified as "Rent Ready." For more information, click here to learn how your property can become Rent Ready.
